Who Was the Woman Who Wore the Hat? Jan 12 2021 This book, a meditation on a woman's hat on display in the Jewish Historical Museum in Amsterdam, combines a pensive prose poem with arresting collage artwork. The illustrations, consisting of pencil drawings, subdued watercolors, and old photographs, sometimes suggest a distant memory and at other times bring the reality of the Holocaust into sharp focus. Subtle yet powerful, historical and personal, this book will have a lasting impact on everyone who experiences it.

Chota Sahib... You've Had a Busy Day Dec 23 2021 At the tender age of eighteen, Charles Nida signed up for a three-year tour of duty in India. But not for him the officers' mess, or the charmed ranks of the heaven-born. He became a "chota sahib" (little man), rubbing shoulders with the ordinary folk of India, treating them as equals and being treated likewise. From 1913-1916 Charles Nida roved the peninsula as a "box-wallah"-a travelling salesman in clothing and general supplies, until he joined a volunteer unit to make Spike Milligan weep tears of mirth, planning to ride into battle on motorcycle-mounted Maxim guns. With little time for the stifling snobbery he encountered everywhere he went, Charles Nida's keen eye focusses a crisp, if sepia-tinted, image of India under British domination as it slid into "the war to end all wars".

An Old-Fashioned Girl in a Century of Change Oct 28 2019 "This story is one for the ages...at a time when the concept of marriage in our society is so fragile and its reality so weakened, the strength and courage of the marriage relationship, so beautifully depicted here, is a remarkable witness to the Orthodox way." + HERMAN, Retired Archbishop of Washington Metropolitan of All America and Canada These letters and journals were written by an intelligent, University trained woman who successfully resisted the "feminism" model in her generation and found her true career in marriage-with children. She supported her husband in church work and Bible translation for non-literate tribal people, standing with him for evolution-free education.

Mail Truck's Busy Day Mar 02 2020 It's a busy, busy day for the mail truck. There are lots of cards and packages to deliver to people along the route. A dog gets a brand-new bone, the farmer and his cow receive a sack of grain, and newborn twin boys get some new toys. From the city to the country, to houses and farms and high-rise apartments, the mail truck makes a lot of stops and brings special letters and parcels to all of its customers, making some of them very happy. Through rhyming words and pictures, "Mail Truck's Busy Day" follows one mail truck through its daily adventures as it makes its many stops throughout its journey.
