Assessing Young Learners of English: Global and Local Perspectives Jun 15 2021 This volume documents international, national, and small-scale testing and assessment projects of English language education for young learners, across a range of educational contexts. It covers three main areas: age-appropriate 'can do statements' and task types for teaching and testing learners between the ages of 6 to 13; innovative approaches to self-assessment, diagnostic testing, self-perception, and computer-based testing; and findings on how young learners perform on vocabulary, listening, speaking, pronunciation, and reading comprehension tests in European and Asian contexts. Early language learning has become a major trend in English language education around the globe. As a result of the spread of teaching English to a growing number of young children, assessment of and for learning have emerged as key issues. In line with this development, there is a clear and emerging need to make early language programs accountable and to assess both the progress children make over time and to quantify their achievement at various stages of development. This volume informs stakeholders about the realistic goals of early language learning, their efficiency, and how much progress children make over time.

The Sociocultural Activity of High Stakes Standardised Language Testing Dec 30 2019 This book explores the influence of high stakes standardised testing within the context of South Korea. South Korea is regarded as a shining example of success in educational achievement and, as this book reveals, pressurised standardised testing has been a major contributing factor to its success. This unique country provides an excellent setting from which to explore the powerful relationship that exists between testing and learning and can advance our understanding of which factors and test conditions will positively and negatively influence learning. This book follows the test activity of a group of Korean university students preparing for the TOEIC (Test of English for International Communication) and posits a revised model of the influence of testing on learning. It calls for a more socially situated view of tests and test-takers considered in relation to the sociocultural, historical, political and economic contexts in which they are embedded.

Learning disabilities screening and evaluation guide for low- and middle-income countries Mar 13 2021 Learning disabilities are among the most common disabilities experienced in childhood and adulthood. Although identifying learning disabilities in a school setting is a complex process, it is particularly challenging in low- and middle-income countries that lack the appropriate resources, tools, and supports. This guide provides an introduction to learning disabilities and describes the processes and practices that are necessary for the identification process. It also describes a phased approach that countries can use to assess their current screening and evaluation services, as well as determine the steps needed to develop, strengthen, and build systems that support students with learning disabilities. This guide also provides intervention recommendations that teachers and school administrators can implement at each phase of system development. Although this guide primarily addresses learning disabilities, the practices, processes, and systems described may be also used to improve the identification of other disabilities commonly encountered in schools.

The Politics of English Second Language Writing Assessment in Global Contexts Nov 08 2020 Reflecting the internationalization of the field of second language writing, this book focuses on political aspects and pedagogical issues of writing instruction and testing in a global context. High-stakes assessment impacts the lives of second language (L2) writers and their teachers around the world, be it the College English Test in China, Common Core-aligned assessments in the U.S., English proficiency tests in Poland, or the material conditions (such as access to technology, training, and other resources) affecting a classroom. With contributions from authors working in ten different countries in a variety of institutional contexts, the chapters examine the uses and abuses of various writing-related assessments, and the policies that determine their form and use. Representing a diverse range of contexts, methods, and disciplines, the authors jointly call for more equitable testing systems that consider the socioeconomic, psychometric, affective, institutional, and needs of all students who strive to gain access to education and employment opportunities related to English language proficiency.

Zweisprachig lernen. Prozesse und Wirkungen eines immersiven Ausbildungsganges an Gymnasien Aug 25 2019 Mit dem Schuljahr 2001/2002 startete im Kanton Zürich, Schweiz das vorerst auf fünf Jahre befristete und später um drei Jahre verlängerte Pilotprojekt „Einführung der zweisprachigen Maturität an Zürcher Mittelschulen (Deutsch/Englisch)“. Die Vermittlung der englischen Sprache erfolgt in diesem Projekt durch Unterricht im Sprachfach Englisch in Kombination mit immersivem Sachfachunterricht, vorwiegend in den Fächern Geschichte und Mathematik. Die Längsschnittstudie mit drei Erhebungszeitpunkten untersucht auf der Basis eines quasi-experimentellen Designs über einen Zeitraum von drei Jahren (2005–2008) die Effekte dieser Einführung auf die Sprachkompetenz Englisch, auf die Geschichtskompetenzen sowie auf die motivationale Selbstregulation der Schülerinnen und Schüler. Zudem wird über videographische Analysen und schriftliche standardisierte Befragungen der Unterricht in den Immersionsfächern und im Fach Englisch einer differenziellen Analyse unterzogen. Eingesetzt werden ein Leistungstest Englisch (BULATS), eine externe Leistungsbeurteilung im Fach Geschichte sowie standardisierte Befragungen von Schülerinnen, Schülern und Lehrpersonen. Über eine zusätzliche standardisierte Befragung nach der Maturität gelingt es in dieser Studie erstmals, ein differenziertes Bild der Prozesse und Wirkungen eines immersiven Ausbildungsganges nicht nur während der Gymnasialzeit, sondern auch im Übergang zwischen Gymnasium und Studium/Beruf, zu zeichnen. Die Studie gibt Bildungsforscherinnen und -forschern, Schulen und Lehrpersonen sowie Verantwortlichen in der Bildungsadministration und Bildungspolitik und weiteren Interessierten einen differenzierten Blick in Prozesse und Wirkungsweisen zweisprachiger Ausbildungsgänge.

A Modular Approach to Testing English Language Skills Dec 22 2021 Documents the development of the Cambridge ESOL Certificates in English Language Skills (CELS), a suite of modular examinations first offered in 2002. As a context for how CELS was conceived, developed, constructed, validated and managed, the book traces the history of exams which have influenced CELS. The Royal Society of Arts (RSA), later UCLES (University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate) Communicative Use of English as a Foreign Language examinations (CUEFL) was one such influence, as were the Certificates in Communication Skills in English (CCSE), these exams being a development of the CUEFL. The University of Oxford Delegacy of Local Examinations (UODLE) examinations, taken over by UCLES in 1995, were a further influence on CELS. UODLE itself had worked in partnership with the Association of Recognised Language Schools (ARELS) Examinations Trust, the Oxford EFL reading and writing exams for many years offered in tandem with the ARELS Oral English exams.

Examining Speaking Mar 25 2022 Test developers need to provide a clear explication of the language ability constructs that underpin the tests they offer in the public domain; such an explication is essential for supporting claims about the validity --- or usefulness --- of tests and test scores. This edited volume develops a theoretical framework for validating tests of second language speaking ability. The framework is then applied through an examination of the tasks in Cambridge ESOL speaking tests from a number of different validity perspectives that reflect the socio-cognitive nature of any assessment event. The chapter authors show how an understanding and analysis of the framework and its components can assist test developers to operationalise their tests more effectively, especially in relation to the key criteria that differentiate one proficiency level from another. The volume is a rich source of information on all aspects of examining speaking ability. As such, it will be of considerable interest to examination boards who wish to validate their own speaking tests in a systematic and coherent manner, as well as to academic researchers and graduate students in the field of language assessment more generally. This is a companion volume to the previously published titles Examining Writing and Examining Reading.
